Interesting Celebration of 25th Anniversary of Dedication of German Reformed Church on Congress Street.

The 25th anniversary of the dedicadon of the German Reformed church on State street was sold and the preson Congress street was celebrated last ent site was purchased. The present edifice was dedicated on March 2, 1884.

the mortgage. Mrs. Christina Veit, representing the committee in charge, set fire to the obligation which had been paid. Rev. H. A. Davenport, pastor of the People's Presbyterlanchurch, delivered the address of the evening. His remarks were largely His remarks were largely historical and dealt with the conditions in the city when the lamented Rev. Casper Brunner, the first pastor of the church, came to the city. Mr. Davenport was present at the dedication of the edifice where the services last night took place 25 years ago. The church was organized in a hall on Wall street, January 26, 1868. Its first church edifice was located on State street at the head of Myrtle avenue. In 1883 the church property hight with appropriate exercises, among them the burning of the mortage on the church property. The anniversary exercises were held in the auditorium of the church and tables were laid in the Sunday school rooms below loaded down with the good things for which the ladies of this church have become famous.

The program in the auditorium opened with a violin solo by Miss Lydia Myers. A chorus choir rendered anthems. W. Bernard read the names of those who had subscribed to raise subject she spoke of a number of other things, and announced that at her last conference, which is fast approaching with the incoming of spring, she will review the administration of ex-President Roosevelt. She called the attention of the ladies present to a few books which have been published on diplomacy, also on the Philippines. She spoke of the anti-oplum conference and said that no more smoking opium is to be imported into this country. Allusion was made to the fact that it is

Allusion was made to the recent severe earthquake shock which in some places broke the recording instruments, and the fact that it took 25 days to get the news from the district in Persia where the earathquke occurred. She thought such people, without telephones, telegraphs, rural delivery, steam trains or even wireless telegraph were not up in civilization. She said the Mesipotomia was but 150 miles distant, and announced that from this country the wonderful Department of Agriculture is fetching date palms to be cultivated in Colorado and Arizona, because it has been discovered that the soil and the climate is the same in both places. And then the observation was made that in the United States everything can be grown which grows anywhere else in the world.

Attention was called to the fact that the world.

Attention was called to the fact that all sorts of congresses on all sorts of subjects were being held in all parts of the world, and that some of them were to assemble in Washington to talk matters over, and as a result Congress was asked to make appripriations to pay the bills and entertain the guests. She said some of our Congressmen are disturbed about these appropriations, but it is necessary for the delegates from the United States to attend these meetings. The International Prison Congress which we originated was spoken of with pride becuse so much good has come from its deliberations. It is to meet next year in Washington, and the trifle of originated was spoken of with pride becuse so much good has come from its deliberations. It is to meet next year in Washington, and the trifle of year in Washington, and the trifle of $50,000 is all that is needed to make comfortable the guests and delegates. Our trade with South America was spoken of, and Mrs. Mitchell lamented the fact that we send so little of our manufactured products to that great manufactured products to that great land at the south of us. Why, she land at the south of us. Why she land at the south of us. Japan to take the trade from us? Echo answered "Why?" She said that we send shopworn goods to South America and shoes which are out of fashion or poorly made. This, probably is one reason why Germany and Japan are crowding us out. We no longer have a monopoly of the world's trade, and it stands us in hand to wake upenter into competition with the rest enter into competition with the rest of the world. An effort is being made to introduce things made in the States into South America, and it is proposed to ask some of the countries on the other side of the equator, to allow us to export our goods free of duty for

Mrs. Mitchell said some of us had Mrs. Mitchell said some of us had been afraid that China was going back, because an eminent Chinaman had been dismissed for purely family reasons from the government. But a letter which had been sent to Mr. Taft, so soon to be the President, gave assurances that China would march or to the tune of civilization, and wanted this country to stand by her until she is able to walk alone. From China to the wonderful bird groups in the museum of Natural History in New York, was but a slight transition, and the ladies were told it is worth a trip to School Cities — Bout at Perry's —

Table Ornaments.

The ladies of the town who love intellectual entertainments, had a rare treate yesterday at the assembly room of the library when Mrs. Mitchell of Westport reviewed current events. Her chief topic was the American diplomatic service, but before reaching this subject she spoke of a number of other things, and announced that at her the summer to run excursions to New York for the benefit of the scholars of Fairfield, so that they can go to the museum and see for themselves how many birds there are in North America, and how they contrive to live when all kinds of food are so dear. Another topic touched upon was the diplomacy, also on the Philippines. She spoke of the anti-opium conference and said that no more smoking opium is to be imported into this country. Allusion was made to the fact that it is continually necessary to publish books in relation to words which are mispronounced, and that now the last volume contains 12,000 words which some people mispronounce. Mrs. Mitchell thought this must arise from the great influx into this country of people of all sorts of languages. She said it seems we should study English.

Allusion was made to the recent severe earthquake shock which in some vere earthquake shock which in some places broke the recording instruments, and the fact that it took 25 days to get
